

SUSAN HOECKE supports the Environmental Justice Foundation (EJF)

Susan Hoecke, winner of the Napoli Cultural Classic award for her acting in the popular soap opera 'Tempesta d'Amore', as character Viktoria, has been a staunch supporter of EJF's ethically produced fashion and supports the Environmental Justice Foundation and its worldwide cotton campaigns.

Having been featured in 3 short movies and a set of television series, she quickly became one of the most sought after celebrities in Italy and Germany:

Susan Hoecke shows us that one can look fashionable while making an ethical choice and says:

"That Germany's biggest supplier of cotton is Uzbekistan, where millions of children are forced to work in conditions near slavery is unbelievably tragic!! I love EJF's organic campaign t-shirts because they help to raise awareness of environmental and human rights abuses around the world and empower people to make a difference!!"

All EJF Organic Designer T-Shirts are 100% organic cotton and printed using 100% organic inks. All proceeds raised from their sale go directly into the charity's campaigns.

These 100% organic designer t-shirts are a must-have item for all fashionistas as they are the perfect item for this spring/summer. You can buy them at selected online stores and via our own website at: www.ejfoundation.org/shop
